Thomas M. Walker. Thomas M. Walker died yesterday afternoon at his residence, 111 North Third Street, in the sixty-eighth year of his age. Arrangements for the funeral will be made later.

conference between the President and Mr. Aldrich was the perfecting of the administration's proposed amendments to the interstate commerce law; but the effects of the Supreme Court's decisions in the tobacco and Standard Oil cases were discussed also to some extent, and will be further discussed after Senator Aldrich's return on Monday from New York.

Taft on Party Pledges. Meanwhile the President will speak in New York Saturday evening on the subject, it is said, of "Party Pledges, and How They Should Be Kept," and he is attempting no concealment or modification of his intention to make the decision of the Supreme Court the guide of the government's action in regard to corporations charged with violations of the Sherman antitrust law. He makes it plain to all inquirers that he had in his message to Congress his view of what in his message to Congress he described as his duty of conduct of all to investigate and will not be swayed from his position by rumors or flurries or other manifestations in "Wall Street."

The general impression here is that the proposed Federal incorporation law will not be passed at the present session of Congress.

Senator Aldrich said: "I can conceive of no legislation within the power of Congress which can meet this situation; either in anticipation of the Supreme Court's decision or subsequent to it."

The Senator smiled grimly. It was evident that he regarded that as outside the domain of possibility.

As for the action of the antitrust cases before the Supreme Court, here is what Attorney General Wickersham said in connection with his motion to advance the Standard Oil case to immediate hearing:

"The tobacco case just argued and submitted to the court, and the Standard Oil case present to the court practically the entire range of modern industrial organization in this country, and substantially every feature of the so-called 'trust' problem."

So far as it is affected by the policy man act, it has been the policy man act. It has been the policy man act. It has been the policy man act.
